WEED DEPARTMENT LOG: January - February 2014

January 1, 2014: Holiday.

January 2, 2014: PTO.

January 3, 2014: Office, began maintenance on the UTV's.

January 6, 2014: Mapping on Indian Valley-Emmett Road, scout weeds on BLM ground along the south boundary of the County.

January 7, 2014: Enter mapping data into Google Earth. Work on EPA NPDES PGP.

January 8, 2014: Continue work on PGP, had to have EPA help with setting up a new account and access to our permit and annual reports now that Dave is retired. Reviewed record of survey and descriptions for the new Wilson Road right-of-way. Reviewed building and vehicle lists for insurance for Sherry.

February 24, 2014 – Weed Department Log Continued:

January 9, 2014: Draft PGP annual report submitted. Met with Prosecutor Mike Robinson regarding the Wilson Road R/W descriptions.

January 10, 2014: Begin work on ASAP for BLM re-imbursement. UTV maintenance.

January 13, 2014: Sent to ASAP for re-imbursement. Should receive $16,000 by electronic transfer to Treasurer. Stopped in to see the commissioners for a minute, Trevor Howard and Commissioner Mike Paradis came back over with me so Mike could certify the PGP annual report. So far I have not received notice that Mike successfully certified the Construction permit that he and Trevor were working on. Continued work on the UTV's. Did some weed studying and worked on an article for the local paper.

January 14, 2014: Mike from Viking came up and worked on the furnace today. Evidently it had a tiny air leak somewhere in the intake system, so the bubbles in the fuel line kept shutting the system down. This may have been a result of the fire. I spent the balance of the day looking for information on grants and programs that may be useful for either the department or the CWMA, and I met with Chris Friend for a while this afternoon to discuss those possibilities. Received BLM payment electronically.

January 15, 2014: Looked into On-the-Job training programs with the State to see if we can save some money for employees. Mapped Little Weiser River Road, rush skeleton weed.

January 16, 2014: Since Debbie has left us, I spent some time this morning reviewing the budget carefully. Chris York will return as our summer seasonal Weed Assistant in the position with benefits. I can utilize Dallas and Cody, if they return this year, when Don does not need them. Hilarie Murphy is interested in returning, and she should be able to come on after school is done in May, and work until the end of August. If Don comes up with more work for his crew, I may need to go ahead and hire someone new. More grant hunting. Studied some chemical labels to see if products might be a good fit for us.

January 17, 2014: Received notice from Idaho Power that they are going to switch the building from Small Commercial use to Large Commercial use based on our energy use over the past year. I've created an account with them online to check our energy use. It shows a considerable spike last year when we were moving into the building and finishing construction. I have a call in to their customer service rep to see if I can convince them that our use will not be high enough to justify a rate increase over time.

January 20, 2014: Holiday.

January 21, 2014: Work on UTV maintenance. Met with Board for Dept heads meeting. Talked with Idaho Power about dropping our rate schedule back down to the lower rate based on the unusual increased use of electricity as we were moving into the rebuilt building last February and March. Reviewed more weed information on potential New Invaders from ISDA. Finished first draft of an article for the paper.

January 22, 2014: Attend ICRMP webinar on personnel management. Worked with Patty on some license plate issues for the UTV's. Troy Davies from Idaho Power called back. It appears that with the cold weather our electric usage is increasing and the rate change will remain in place for now. I will endeavor to keep the thermostat turned down and limit my use of the big shop lights. Troy and I agreed to discuss this further if I can reduce the usage, however Idaho Power no longer reviews accounts to lower the rates, only to raise them.

January 23, 2014: Law and safety reviews for first aid, herbicide labels, safety equipment. Forest Service webinar on invasive species.

January 24, 2014: Maintenance, routine computer updates, web course on weed management.

February 24, 2014 – Weed Department Log Continued:

January 27, 2014: Met with commissioners to discuss personnel needs for this summer. Routine computer updates and housekeeping.

January 28, 2014: Chris Friend and I phone conference with the ISDA Review Committee about our CWMA funding application for this season. Afternoon off to attend a funeral.

January 29, 2014: Work on another newspaper article for the Record; my last article appeared in this week's paper. Vehicle maintenance and cleaning.

January 30, 2014: Study on-line about economic impact of weeds on property values. Chase Hansen was in this morning to check on the insurance coverage for our building contents. Performed vehicle maintenance and cleaning. Off early for Red Cross Blood Drive.

January 31, 2014: Vehicle maintenance, trip to C&M to pick up remote light switches for shop lights. Usually only need one of the big lights in the shop at a time, so I purchased wireless remote switches so I can turn on only one light at a time if I choose. This should help with the power bill. Prep for Weed Conferences next week.

February 12, 2014: Snow and then rain all day. I spent the day reviewing weed information and videos that I may be able to use for training. Worked to install the new radio controlled plug-in units for the shop lights. If they work right, I'll be able to turn on some or all of the shop lights as needed. This should save considerable electricity when I get the RF to work right. For right now, I can turn on one or sometimes two of the lights with the remote, but I can't seem to make it work consistently to turn on all three, or even the one I want all the time.

February 13, 2014: Reviewed weed info and mapping, planning some areas to scout for weeds when the weather improves. Downloaded and installed a new version of the software I use (free) for some of our mapping. Helped Chris York with time and expense report for her attendance at the Weed Conference. These conference opportunities are an important training tool for our licensed people. Downloaded some information on Ventenada grass, which is a new invader we're seeing in some areas. Worked on survey information for the bio-control program, BLM and Nez Perce Bio are trying to gauge the demand for bugs for this summer, and I'm trying to gauge the opportunities to use them effectively. We've put out a lot of bio controls for spurge over the last few years, and I need to begin surveys to see how the beetles are doing. I'm hoping to expand bio controls for other species as well.

February 14, 2014: Began work to polish and buff the hard water stains off of the trucks. Met with the insurance rep at the courthouse. Turned in time and expense reports for the conference for Chris York.
